NORTH CAROLINA WOMEN – ACTIVISTS SINCE 1774! January 2022

From the desk of Kay Wildt, President of NCFRW

Sitting in church on Christmas Day, the pastor reminded us that we are not spectators in this life, that it is our responsibility to discern what we believe and then go out into the world and share those beliefs.

As Republican women, we know what our beliefs are - loving our country, protecting our families, raising children with healthy values, respecting the elderly, protecting life and defending our God-given rights.

Our path for the next several years is clear: We must win back leadership in government. President Donald J. Trump opened a window for the world to see how much better all our lives are with conservative leadership. Despite the lies and the fraud, people see the Leftist message for what it is - the destruction of our civil society and ultimately an end to the freedoms that patriots fought and died for to create, and then to keep, this nation.

For more than a century, forces have striven to fundamentally change our world, to remove God from every facet of our lives, to undermine morality, to violate the laws of nature, to destroy families, to weaken Churches and to replace religion with the god of an all-controlling Government.

As important as winning elections is, it's even more important to restore our country by winning the spiritual battle with civil, social and political action. The NCFRW website has a powerful article, "Time to Go on Self-Righteous Offense" written by Rabbi Spero. In it, he urges that if we are to save our children, we must change some of our attitudes toward politics, confrontation, and activism.

It is worth your time to read his thoughts. The article is here.

To quote Rabbi Spero, " Many believe that God brings us into the world precisely at the moment in history when our talents and fortitude can fight the prevailing fight taking place during the epoch of our lives. It's your country and heritage: fight for it. It's your birthright, a fight for your children and posterity. Can there be a more important fight, a more important call to action? Thank God we are alive at this moment of calling!"

We begin 2022 with resolve that we know our calling, and that we are up to the task. We have the will, we know our cause is just, and with God's help, we will prevail.

Happy New Year to all our NCFRW sisters and friends!
