Abuse - what else can we call it?

DEADLINE MAY 15TH

When biological men compete against biological females in a physical match, it is unequal competition.

When biological men display their genitalia to females in a locker room or other intimate setting, it is sexual bullying, but it formerly was called "indecent exposure."

Both are forms of abuse and must stop. It is unconscionable that the Biden administration is proving itself to be anti-women and is promoting harmful and abusive rules.

Comment below to protect women.

DEADLINE TO COMMENT: MAY 15, 2023

LAST CHANCE TO COMMENT The war on women continues.

In another attempt to destroy our culture, the Biden Administration subverts the very reason that Title IX was created.

Rather than protect girls and female athletes by providing a safe and fair playing field, subpar male athletes may now bully their way into every aspect of school athletics.

In addition, girls and young women are forced to share locker rooms and intimate spaces with biological males.

Parents, educators, and lawmakers across the country are rightly concerned about the damage these changes will have on both the mental and physical well-being of female student athletes. Comment NOW and fight against this abuse.

Talking points:

- Neglects science - allows biological males to participate in female athletics puts biological females at a higher risk for physical injury.
- Limits female's ability to seek awards and scholarships.
- All students deserve privacy and safety in sex-separated spaces (such as locker rooms, restrooms, and athletic-medical rooms).
- Female athletes deserve to compete in fair, honest, and safe athletic competitions free from the threat of medical injury or unfair competition against biological male athletes.
- Females no longer have equal rights to female-only sports teams - instead

- of protecting women, the rule favors males identifying as women.
- In elementary and middle school, girl's teams are essentially banned.
- In high school and college, males who identify as female are allowed in locker rooms.
- For any sport, at every age and level of competition, schools must allow any trans-identifying male on a female team.

Biden's proposed rule flips the burden of proof against female athletes. It gives males who declare "womanhood" the upper hand in challenging any policy seeking to keep sports teams based on biology, not identity.

This was NEVER the intent of Congress under Title IX.

Notes on Sex Abuse in NC Schools by A.P. Dillon

NCFRW was honored to have A.P. (Andrea) Dillon of the North State Journal as our luncheon keynote speaker on Saturday, May 6, in Charlotte.

Andrea's research into sex abuse in NC schools was shocking, and many members asked for us to share the notes from her speech on her research, the process to remove an offender, the current status of legislation to address the problems, and to join in supporting remedies.

Also important is support for Republican leaders, like Catherine Truitt, NC Supt. of Public Instruction, and legislators, like Rep. John Torbett, who are taking actions to protect students. With Andrea's permission, her notes are attached.

Many thanks to David Warren of the Leadership Institute for our training workshops.

Americanism?

Memorial Day

While your Memorial Day weekend may be packed with family fun and a vacation, it's also important to pause the festivities and remember the real meaning and history of Memorial Day. This is a time to show our gratitude. What can you do to show

Below are several ways to show our Americanism during the month of May.

- One effective way is to wear red, white and blue!
- May 26 is American Legion Poppy Day to remember and honor our military.
- Gather club members and attend a memorial service in your community.
- Attend a Memorial Day parade to show honor and respect for our fallen.
- Take time to reflect and read a book about the military or American history.
- Teach your children about Memorial Day and what it stands for.
- Take them to a cemetery.
- Ask them to help you raise the flag to half staff until noon.
- Send a care package or write a letter to a deployed soldier.
- Personally thank veterans and let them know we are forever grateful.
- Don't forget the patriotic decorations!

Ronald Reagan said, “And if words cannot repay the debt we owe these men, surely with our actions we must strive to keep faith with them, and with the vision that led them to battle and to final sacrifice.”

In addition to defending our U.S. Constitution and working for Republican causes, Linda was known for her devotion to her church where she held many leadership roles.

A highlight for Linda was the 'Once in a lifetime' 2017 Presidential Inaugural Ball.

NCFRW honors Our Blue

Republican Women Proudly Back the Blue

May is Law Enforcement Appreciation Month in recognition of our brave law enforcement officers who risk their lives every day to keep us safe. These officers deal with crime, everything from murder, rape and assault to the fentanyl crisis and human trafficking. We honor their sacrifices and appreciate all they do to create and maintain a civil society.
